We invite you to help bring Gilbert House Home.

In-person play at the museum has been paused, but children continuing to learn through creative play is no less important. Schooling looks different for all families in our community this Autumn and Gilbert House Children's Museum is committed to being a support and resource for parents. With your help, Gilbert House Children's Museum can provide fun project ideas, online learning activities, and resources for young children to continue learning this Autumn. Help us provide hands-on learning for children as we facilitate families Bringing Gilbert House Home.
