We invite you to help bring Gilbert House Home.

We are coming up on one year since we have had to pause admissions at the Museum, but children are continuing to learn through creative play. We have pulled together a small but mighty team who has developed fun and creative ways to keep families active and engaged through Gilbert House at Home activities. With your help, Gilbert House Children's Museum can continue to provide fun project ideas, online learning activities, and resources for young children to support online learning and get them up and moving. Help us provide these wonderful hands-on learning activities for children as we Bring Gilbert House Home.
